PROJECTS

DEVlink | Final Year project

GitHub Repo

2025 - 2026

DevLink is a comprehensive web-based platform that connects developers with mentors and real-world project opportunities, creating a complete ecosystem for learning, collaboration, and professional growth.

- It allows users to create detailed profiles and showcase their technical skills and experience.
- It enables structured collaboration and efficient communication between developers and mentors.
- It enhances networking, promotes mentorship, and encourages hands-on project engagement using modern web technologies.

Online market place | OOP project

GitHub Repo

2024

Developed a console-based Online Marketplace application using Object-Oriented Programming (OOP) principles, providing a structured system for managing users, products, and orders. The project emphasizes modular design, code reusability, and maintainability through concepts like classes, objects, inheritance, encapsulation, and polymorphism.

- Implemented core functionalities including product listing, searching, adding to cart, and order placement to simulate real-world e-commerce operations.
- Designed separate classes for entities such as users, products, and orders, ensuring clean architecture and proper separation of concerns.
